helping to put you into words

2018 collection

I really quite want to cuddle you but you're a bit too far away so instead I'm sending a great big kiss in the envelope with this card and when you open it you'll probably feel a little bit warm and all lovely inside and that's me thinking of you.

TRL77

I rather like having you in my life so it would be brilliant if you could please stay for really quite a long time like forever and we can go on lots of adventures so we have plenty of very interesting stories to tell when we're older and greyer and just quietly drinking tea.

TRL83

Something about you turns my head a little bit mushy and my heart goes all skippety flip and I find myself doing slightly silly things like putting my keys in the fridge and forgetting all sorts of stuff because mostly I am thinking happy thoughts about the jolly fabulous you.

TRL38

Some people in our world make the day seem a tad brighter and the clouds look a little fluffier and our smile feel a bit bigger and you may not quite know it but you are most definitely one of those so here is a card to celebrate the very loveliness of you.

Sometimes life can be unkind and you just want to climb off the world so if you feel like that I want you to know that I'm completely and utterly here if you need me to sit quietly and listen while you shout crossly for a bit or just cuddle you when you cry.

Sometimes life can be unkind and you just want to climb off the world so if you feel like that I want you to know that I'm completely and utterly here if you need me to sit quietly and listen while you shout crossly for a bit or just cuddle you when you cry.

Sometimes life can be unkind and you just want to climb off the world so if you feel like that I want you to know that I'm completely and utterly here if you need me to sit quietly and listen while you shout crossly for a bit or just cuddle you when you cry.

I know that you're a smidgen down at the moment and the corners of your mouth aren't quite pointing the right way so I'm squashing a big hug inside this card and am ready and waiting if you need any help to nudge that gorgeous face back into a smile.

TRL107

You are in the very middle of my thoughts right now and I'm sorry I can't take your sadness away but in good time when you are ready I am certain that the sun will shine for you again and until then I'll just sit next to you in the rain.

TRL108

I want you to know that I am beside you on this journey and we will face the tricky up and down bits together and when this passage in life has passed we can go and sit somewhere with a beautiful view and talk about how to make stuff good again.

Sometimes it can be tricky to find the right things to write or the best words to say when something sad happens in someone's world so I'm sending this card just to let you know that I'm thinking of you very much and hope that says it all.

TRL86

Hope you have a fantastically brilliant birthday and that everyone is especially smiley and kind to you all day so you go to bed this evening with a hop and a skip and feeling really rather happy that you were born.

Hope you have a fantastically brilliant birthday and that everyone is especially smiley and kind to you all day so you go to bed this evening with a hop and a skip and feeling really rather happy that you were born.

Today is completely absolutely all about you so you can behave exactly how you like even if that means doing some slightly dodgy birthday dancing or just having the remote control all evening because it's your day and no one can complain about it one tiny bit.

TRL04

If I was with you today I'd make tea and crumpets and bring you birthday cake if you wanted it and maybe even do the washing up but as I'm a little bit too far away I'm afraid you'll have to imagine me doing all that jolly lovely thoughtful stuff for you instead.

TRL69

Now is the time in your life to wear glitter and make mistakes and kiss a few frogs and dance on tables and work a fabulous high heel and only very occasionally practise being sensible so today is for putting on your birthday bells to celebrate all that and a whole lot more.

TRL14

Now that you're a tiny smidgen older you might find that some of you is getting a bit squidgier and other bits are heading slightly closer to the ground but fret not for you are definitely very much wiser and cleverer and still looking quite gorgeously fabulous.

TRL68

It's not that I actually forgot your birthday but life just got in the way a little bit and suddenly the date had trundled past so I'm sending this card now to let you know that I was absolutely thinking of you on the day I completely promise.

Today is to celebrate you popping onto the planet and generally being your lovely and marvellous self so here is a card to say hooray that you're here in my world and thank you for making it so splendid and please have a brilliant birthday.

TRL67

Today you can paint the town red or purple or blue and you could spend it singing loudly and badly or just quietly going about your business if you prefer because the best thing about having a birthday is that it's entirely officially your right to design the day.

TRL20

There is cake and then there is chocolate cake and that sort which sensible people eat with a fork or the yummy squidgy kind of cake which splodges on the table when you bite it and because today is your birthday that actually means you can officially have them all.

TRL24

To my gorgeous other half on your special day I promise to pop you up on a birthday pedestal and make you feel extra specially loved today and I just wanted to say how chuffed I am that you were born in the first place and how totally brilliant you make my world.

TRL115

To my very brilliant friend on your birthday I hope you feel extra super special all day today and you get to rip open some gorgeous gifts and I just wanted to say how chuffed I am that you were born in the first place and how snazzy you make my world.

You have probably now reached an age where you can witter on for ages about how it was in your day and haven't times changed and small people will expect you to say extremely wise things and soon you might even be asked if you'd like to sit down on the bus.

TRL57

As it's your birthday you can leave your wet towels on the floor and watch lots of man telly and I even don't really mind if you snore a bit as it's your special day just as long as you understand that mine will mostly be about shopping and cake.

If you happen to get that dry mouth thing or the fluttery butterfly tummy just think of all the luck stuffed inside this card and hopefully you'll feel less flittery and jittery and instead remember that you're completely totally capable and marvellous.

Often the very best new chapters are when the page is blank and you get to write your own kind of adventure with heroes and happy endings and stuff so this is to say cheers to your new chapter and wishing you much happiness in the next bit of your story.

TRL112

There's a little bit of magic inside us all and sometimes you just need to search for it and believe you can achieve some pretty great stuff with it so if you're having a teensy wobble just trust your little bit of magic and go forth and be the brilliant you.

I heard your brilliant news and did a great big jump of joy which I'm afraid you won't have been able to see as I'm a little bit too far away so instead I'm sending this card to say how utterly extremely thrilled I am and a huge hooray for you.

TRL46

Shouting from the rooftops looked a little bit dangerous and putting your name up in lights just got a tad tricky so instead this card is being sent to say that you are clever and brilliant and very jolly well done you.

I'm so excited I just want to grab his chubby cheeks and kiss his tiny little feet and smell his head and let him sleep on my shoulder and maybe dribble slightly on my arm and I don't even mind if he does that crying thing a bit.

TRL02

She's actually really here and I bet she looks so pretty and perfect even when she's trying to do a little burp or sleeping in that cute new baby way with her arms above her head or just gorgeously lying there making all those funny snuffly gurgling sounds.

TRL03

Sending you the biggest bundle of congratulations on becoming parents and stepping into a brand new world of holding coats and flushing toilets and never quite managing to finish a sentence or drink a hot cup of tea but nevertheless being the proud makers of an actual little life.

Sending you oodles of congratulations on your tiny new piece of you and hoping the next few weeks are full of gorgeous little gurgles and miniature hand holding and peaceful snoozing perched up on your shoulder and none of that pesky pacing back and forth in the middle of the night.

TRL44

Sending you oodles of congratulations on your tiny new piece of you and hoping the next few weeks are full of gorgeous little gurgles and miniature hand holding and peaceful snoozing perched up on your shoulder and none of that pesky pacing back and forth in the middle of the night.

Would love to hear if he got down on one knee and if it was romantic or funny or drunken and what he said and what you said and what colour you're thinking for the bridesmaids but frankly what we're all really interested in is the sparkliness of the rock.

TRL22

Wishing you many years of married life with lots of blissfully happy stuff like snuggling in front of a box set and enjoying a lazy Sunday morning with the papers and hopefully not even a smidgen of bickering about how the dishwasher should be stacked or who spends more time on their phone.

TRL114

If I were to ask for a Valentine it'd be someone who'd giggle at the same silly things and have interesting chats about all sorts of stuff and sometimes just sit with me quietly and not fret about the silence and it turns out that I've everything I could ask for in the wonderful you.

TRL113

Thank you for being so thoughtfully kind and generous and overall just really rather great because today now has more of a spring in its step and my face has more of a smile on it and that's mostly all because of the lovely you.

Thank you for being so thoughtfully kind and generous and overall just really rather great because today now has more of a spring in its step and my face has more of a smile on it and that's mostly all because of the lovely you.

If I were there right now I promise I'd plump your pillows and bring you a jug of icy fresh water and feed you grapes and read you funny stories out of magazines and I'd even put a cold flannel on your forehead if you happened to feel a tiny bit hot.

If I were there right now I promise I'd plump your pillows and bring you a jug of icy fresh water and feed you grapes and read you funny stories out of magazines and I'd even put a cold flannel on your forehead if you happened to feel a tiny bit hot.

Just wanted to send you a card to say a jolly good old fashioned and well brought up thank you for having us like our mum used to make us say and quite frankly she was right because it was brilliant and you were fabulous and we had the most splendid time.

TRL49

Sorry to hear you're feeling not so much on top of the world as slightly sliding down the side of it so I'm sending this card to say that I'm thinking of you and sending you a big bundle of get well wishes and hope you start to feel tip top again soon.

TRL110

We're more than a little bit sad to see you go and will miss you rather a lot but if you find your new pastures are better and greener than ours then we probably don't really want to know about it thank you very much.

TRL08

You've actually finally made it and I can't wait to ding your new doorbell and clink glasses in your new kitchen and will try to be interested in paint swatches and what sofas and which lamp shades as long as you promise not to paint every single wall magnolia.

TRL12

This year I have grown lots cleverer and a little bit braver and I've learnt stuff about the world and made new friends and generally had a jolly lovely time which is actually mostly because of you so I just wanted to say thank you for being my completely brilliant teacher.

TRL64

You are wise and clever and sometimes a little bit funny and most of all very kind and smiley and I wanted to say a super big thank you for teaching me lots of brilliant stuff about the world and I hope my next teacher is as rather splendidly wonderful as you.

TRL65

Thank you for being such a splendidly brilliant daddy and making me giggle and teaching me clever stuff and please remember when you look at this card that I love you super specially and really very much even though mummy smells nicer and sometimes your face is a bit prickly.

TRL60

Dads are strong and brave and sometimes a little bit cross but also cuddly and kind when it really properly matters and you are definitely the absolute bestest one in the whole complete universe even when you tell those dad jokes or start trying to dance.

TRL61

Sometimes you are wise and sometimes rather funny and you are jolly good at using a screwdriver or knowing really quite tricky things like the offside rule and I wanted to say actually officially that I love you ever so lots and thank you for being my brilliant dad.

TRL62

I might not say it often but I love you super lots and when we're not together I miss you quite a bit because to me you are the wisest and funniest and just completely brilliant dad and I wanted you to know I'm really rather happy that you're mine.

TRL63

You help me believe that when I'm bigger I will be brave enough to fight a gigantic brown bear and use really quite long words and one day even tall enough to jump over rainbows but whilst I am little I'd just like to stay with you please and have lots of squashy cuddles in your arms.

You kiss my grazes and wipe my tears and you're fun and silly but kind and brilliant and you keep my world all glued together and cleverly know the right thing to say or the best cuddle to give because I think you are actually a magic mummy and I'm very lucky that you're mine.

I wanted to thank you for sharing your clever wisdom and life stuff and helping me potter along my own path and when you're wondering if I actually quite notice all you do for me then please remember this card which is to say that I'm definitely appreciative always for having you as my brilliant mum.

May your Christmas bring you everything you wish for including a perfectly stacked dishwasher and splendidly roasted potatoes with those extra crunchy bits and a thoroughly happy household with beautifully big grins and not so much port that your head is a bit poorly the next day.

This Christmas may you get the first pick of the chocolates and the winning half of the cracker and may all your turkey timings go right and all your tree lights stay lit so that your head hits the pillow at the end of the night popping with memories of a thoroughly brilliant day.

I could ask for more socks or some stuff in a bottle that smells jolly nice and I can probably think of plenty of other brilliantly marvellous things I need but actually what I'd like most of all this Christmas is a kiss under the mistletoe with the rather gorgeous you.

Hope this year has been kind to you and mostly filled with happy days and splendidly brilliant people so you can clink glasses this Christmas with a smile on your face saying a fond farewell to the last twelve months and an enthusiastic hello to the next.

There's nothing better in December than a really good natter in front of a crackling log fire or a crisp wintery walk wrapped in a warm snuggly scarf except of course for one other completely brilliant thing and that would be spending this Christmas with you.

TRL30

Stockings by the fireplace and baubles on the tree and wine mulling and glasses polished and cake stirred and pudding ready to be lit and carols playing and devils on their horsebacks and pigs in their blankets so now all we need for Christmas is the fabulously wonderful you.

"We absolutely love stocking The Right Lines"

French Grey
Bath, Tetbury, Malmesbury

If you were up the road I'd knock on your door right now and we could plan fabulous festivities over a bottle of red but as you're a tad too far away I've stuffed this card with wishes for the happiest of Christmases and hope your next year is a truly brilliant one.

TRL29

May your Christmas tree tumble with gifts and you manage to do that tricky curly ribbon thing with the scissors and not have too many of those awkward odd shaped presents to wrap or run out of gift tags or have to spend ages trying to find the end of the sellotape.

Hope you enjoy simply oodles of Christmas magic this year like the sight of a newly filled stocking and the first crunchy footstep on untouched snow and plenty of other chunks of loveliness which make your home sparkle and flutter with fabulous festive joy.

TRL36

Hope you have a splendidly wonderful Christmas with plenty of laughter and kindness and no bad losers at board games or hideous festive knitwear but most importantly that you shall be blessed with deliciously perfect gravy and not too many left over sprouts.

TRL27

As Christmas is about good will to all men I shall do my very best to be completely and utterly lovely to you even if you leave your pants on top of the laundry basket and your towel on the floor but you'd better make sure my present is spectacularly gorgeous just in case.

TRL32

Wishing you a fabulous family Christmas sipping mulled wine and snubbling at mince pies whilst trying to remember all the words to the carols before falling asleep in front of the television feeling gorgeously full and probably ending the day happily squabbling over board games.
